Creating a Culture of Thinking & Learning: Changing the Paradigm of PD

From

To

Teachers need opportunities for sustained professional learning. Schools “need to be places where not only students but also teachers learn.”

Stigler and Hiebert (1999)

Share

Think about recent professional learning in which you have engaged.

Share what ways it did or did not align to:

- your learning needs related to literacy
- priority needs identified by you/your staff

Using the polling feature, rate:

a—great alignment	c—poor alignment
b—good alignment	—no alignment

Professional Learning

- Leadership Networks –

Each district has teachers, principals, and district administrators building capacity in their districts for understanding of and implementation of CCSS.

- PD/PLCs – focus on discussions about expectations for student learning; differentiating PD to meet individual and/or small groups of teachers' needs.

Professional Learning

A High-Impact Professional Learning Plan

The High-Impact Professional Learning Plan includes internal feedback tools for schools to use throughout the professional learning (PL) process to monitor the effectiveness of the PL experience and make necessary adjustments.

Building a High-Impact Professional Learning Plan –a document designed to guide schools through the process of developing a professional learning plan that will enhance instruction

Appendix A – A Guide for Evaluating the Impact of Professional Learning –a resource for instructional leaders designed as a process guide (to be used in conjunction with the three feedback tools)

- Tool # 1 – Professional Learning Reflections –a reflection resource instructional leaders can use to capture educators’ initial reactions to a PL experience
- Tool # 2 – Follow-up Reflections –a reflection resource for instructional leaders to use as one means for gathering formative feedback, monitoring the early impact of a PL experience and supporting educators during the process
- Tool # 3 – Professional Learning Outcome Reflections – a reflection resource to help instructional leaders determine the long-term impact of a PL experience and capture evidence to inform continued impact

Professional Learning

Building a High--Impact Literacy Professional Learning Plan

1. What specific, focused knowledge or skills do educators in the school need to help them provide explicit literacy instruction in all content areas?

Example for MS/HS--Five practices that are heavily supported by research*:

- explicit vocabulary instruction
- direct and explicit comprehension strategy instruction
- extended discussion of text meaning and interpretation
- Increased student motivation and engagement in literacy learning
- intensive and individualized interventions for struggling readers

Improving adolescent literacy: Effective classroom and intervention practices: A Practice Guide Kamil, M. L., Borman, G. D., Dole, J., Kral, C. C., Salinger, T., and Torgesen, J. (2008). (NCEE #2008-4027). U.S. Department of Education. <http://ies.ed.gov/ncee/wwc>*

Research Finding: Classrooms that frequently incorporate extended discussions show greater literacy gains than classes that have little or no opportunity for discussion. (Kamil et al., 2008)

Teachers should...

- select engaging and relevant materials
- create a discussion-rich classroom environment
- develop questions that require reflection, deep thinking and making connections
- ask follow up questions to extend the discussion
- facilitate small group discussions

Benefits:

- Powerful professional development that highlights consistency and celebrates differences and differentiation
- What is taught above and below (moving beyond an alignment document)
- Allows teachers to improve their own practice by focusing on specific things as they go into classrooms

Evaluating the Impact of Professional Learning

Continuous Use of Professional Learning

1. Support participants' during the initial implementation of professional learning.
2. Facilitate on-going, embedded professional learning so teachers at different stages of use can continue to learn by fostering teacher collaboration as they implement knowledge, skills and strategies from their professional learning opportunities.

Example opportunities

- Model or demonstration lessons in classrooms
- Study groups that focus on extending the impact of professional learning and helping participants learn how to effectively implement what they learned in their own classrooms
- Study groups that focus on extending the impact of professional learning and helping participants learn how to effectively implement what they learned in their own classrooms

Evaluating the Impact of Professional Learning

Tool # 1

Professional Learning Reflections

Circle the letter that corresponds to your initial reactions to this professional learning experience and include a short written response in the space provided with each question.

A = strongly positive B = positive C = negative D = strongly negative

1. There is clearly a connection between the content of this professional learning experience and the potential for improved student learning. A B C D

Please comment on one connection that was especially relevant for you.

2. What I learned can be immediately applied in my classroom. A B C D

Please identify something you will use with your students when you return to your classroom.

Evaluating the Impact of Professional Learning

Tool # 3

Professional Learning Outcome Reflections

Please estimate the degree of success using the following scale:

1	2	3	4	5	6
Not at all		Inconsistently/Partly			Entirely

- As a result of this professional learning experience I was able to: Estimate
A. _____
B. _____
- When I implemented what I learned in my classroom, my students were able to:
A. _____
B. _____
- Describe strategies you implemented to make application of what you learned in the professional learning experience easier or more successful.
